

CoinStruction market liquidity framework

CoinStruction is a framework for cross-platform crypto asset exchange and market liquidity:

- Reliable back-end layer of interoperability and standardization for the crypto market;
- Liquidity aggregation from different exchanges, trading networks and payment gateways;
- Transparent order book harmonization and clearance;
- Advanced order matching and processing features;
- Efficient cross-platform trade execution through secure APIs.

Our Vision

Highest liquidity and order book depth

Overcoming platform boundaries to deliver the highest market liquidity through an easily accessible consolidated order book.

Integration of Top30 crypto exchanges

Rapid expansion of the CoinStruction framework by integrating with key crypto market players and service providers from around the world.

Fixed-price OTC and high-volume trading

Introduction of advanced trading tools and trade processing options to fulfill various market needs for both institutional and individual traders.

Growing the global crypto industry

Providing the technical solutions necessary for growing crypto related businesses and supporting global crypto adoption.
